

EVELYN DUPUY

Evelyn Dupuy is a Cuban singer, songwriter, and performer who embodies the strength and sensitivity of the new Latin wave in Europe.

Her warm and powerful voice bridges Afro-Caribbean roots with contemporary sounds, blending the soul of bolero and jazz with the pulse of electronic music and the rhythm of salsa.

From Amsterdam, Evelyn builds bridges between cultures and generations, reclaiming the legacy of the Latin woman in art through an authentic, elegant, and deeply emotional musical universe.

CELIA CRUZ CRUZ TRIBUTE

A vibrant tribute to the Queen of Salsa, where Evelyn Dupuy and her band reinterpret Celia Cruz's greatest classics with a modern touch and a magnetic stage presence.

The project celebrates the joy, strength, and legacy of Afro-Cuban music with fresh arrangements and an irresistible energy that invites everyone to dance and embrace their Latin pride.

AFRO-LATIN ELECTRONIC JAZZ

An original project that merges Afro-Caribbean roots with electronic experimentation and contemporary jazz. In this work, Evelyn Dupuy explores identity and diasporic memory through sonic landscapes that combine electronic beats, jazz harmonies, and Afro-Cuban percussion.

The result is an atmospheric, hypnotic, and emotionally charged sound, a modern journey back to the roots.

Ideal for: World music festivals, alternative electronic stages, and contemporary jazz events.

Live concert / musical performance

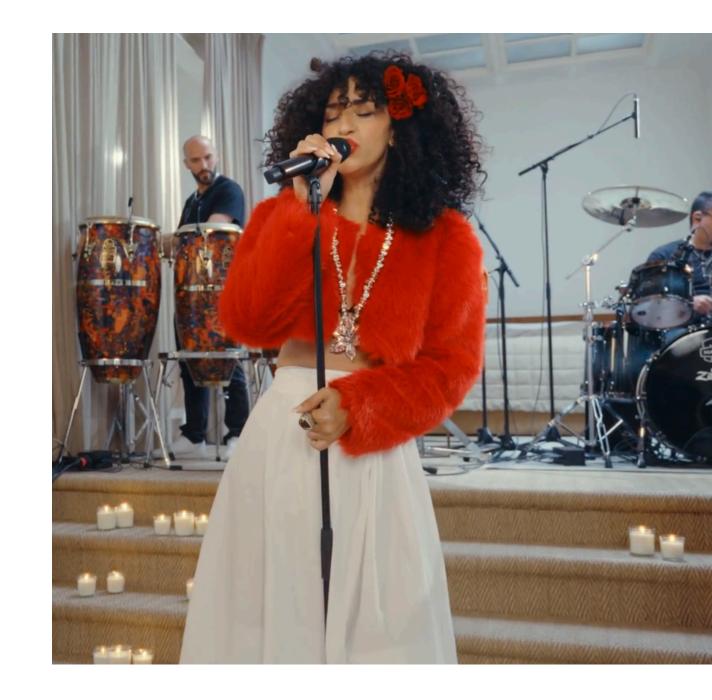

• Duration: 60–75 minutes

Musicians: Lead vocals, rhythm section, brass section, backing vocals

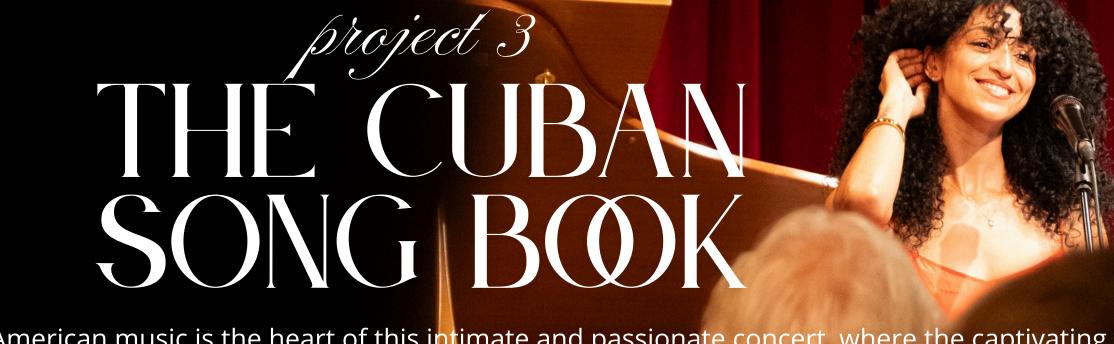

• Style: Afro-Latin, Electronic, Jazz

• Technical Requirements: Reader and stage plot available upon request

A dynamic fusion of Afro-Latin rhythms, electronic textures, and jazz improvisation. Featuring 7 musicians, including piano, percussion, trombone, trumpet, bass, drums, and vocals. The set includes selections from Evelyn's debut EP En el Limbo alongside new compositions, delivering an immersive and eclectic musical journey.

Latin American music is the heart of this intimate and passionate concert, where the captivating voice of Evelyn Dupuy meets the refined piano artistry of Pedro Benítez. Together, they lead the audience on a journey through the timeless universe of the bolero, a genre that embodies love, nostalgia, and the lyrical soul of Latin America.

Having developed their artistry through years of musical exploration, Evelyn and Pedro unite elegance, emotion, and rhythmic depth in every performance. Their chemistry on stage evokes both sophistication and warmth, transforming each song into a living dialogue between piano and voice.
