ABOUT ^{THE} BAND

WATCH THE VIDEO

POSTCODE is a band born in the Canary Islands. Based in Tenerife but with an international vision, their sound merges contemporary pop-rock with emotional depth and a carefully crafted identity, shaped by the pursuit of connection and attention to detail.

Their debut album, Broadcast from Nowhere, explores themes of turning distance into message, and isolation into shared art. For the band, this album is much more than a collection of songs: it's a heartfelt transmission from the margins — an artistic statement from a generation seeking resonance beyond the algorithm.

Their music draws from indie, singer-songwriter pop, introspective rock, and the audiovisual language they've grown up with in the digital age.

This EPK introduces their creative universe, their first album, and the roadmap with which they aim to reach audiences around the world. Through a refined visual aesthetic, emotionally direct messaging, and a live performance style that balances intimacy and expansiveness, POSTCODE presents itself as one of Spain's most promising up-and-coming exports.

THE BAND ORIGINS AND PATH

Hi, we're POSTCODE, a pop-rock band from the Canary Islands. Formed by Armi Delgado, Drahcir Díaz, Moisés Socas, and Juan Pablo Sifonte, we create music that blends the catchiness of pop with the depth of rock, adding indie and folk touches to our sound. Our style is sober and contemporary, with a clear international vocation: we want our songs to transcend borders and connect with people everywhere.

Everything began while we were finishing our studies at the Tenerife Conservatory of Music, as well as in high school hallways where we met and became close friends. Since then, we've shared a wide range of musical influences and a common artistic vision.

We started out as street musicians performing in Tenerife — covering songs that inspired us and introducing our first original material — and in 2017, we officially formed the band. We performed across the Canary Islands and later brought our music to cities like London and Barcelona, where we received a warm welcome that encouraged us to keep building the project.

These experiences led us to record our songs in top-tier studios in Madrid, Los Angeles, Mexico, and Tenerife, enriching our sound with new perspectives. We're now preparing to launch our debut album and open a new chapter as we grow within the global music scene.

BAND MEMBERS

Armi Delgado – Vocals

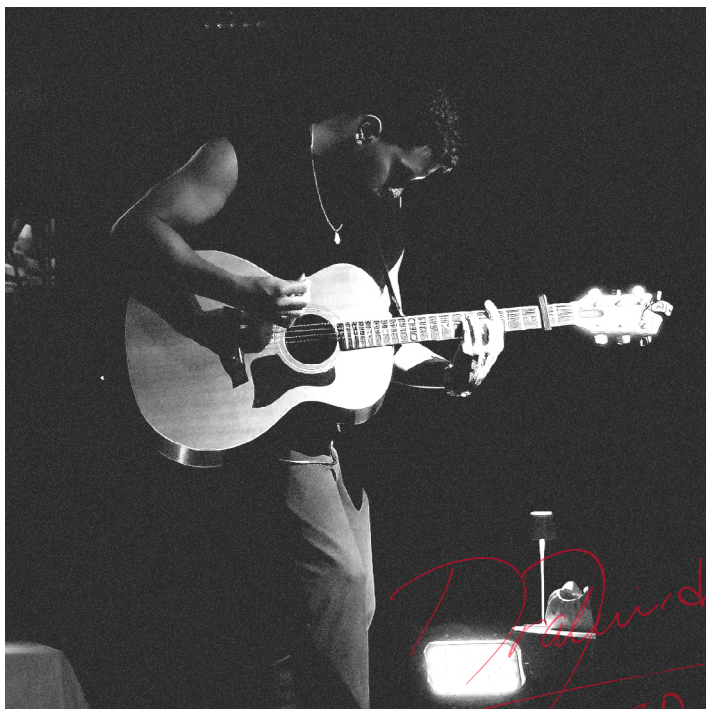

I live and breathe music. Ever since I was a child, I've felt an enormous passion for singing and putting on a show for anyone willing to listen. I've been writing songs since I was 13, and I dream of one day playing in stadiums with the band — sharing our music and message with thousands of people.

Moisés Socas – Guitar & Bass

Music has been part of my life even before I was born. My mother used to play Beethoven when she was pregnant with me. I studied classical guitar at the conservatory and now switch between bass, rhythm, and lead guitar. My influences range from Francisco Tárrega to Jimi Hendrix — blending elegance and power.

Drahcir Díaz – Violin & Guitar

I started with music at 3 years old, playing the Venezuelan cuatro. Today I play violin and guitar, and I love producing and composing with the band. My influences span Latin American folk and alternative rock, which shape the unique sound I bring to POSTCODE.

Juan Pablo Sifonte – Drums & Percussion

Music, dance, and entertainment have always fascinated me. I studied percussion at the Santa Cruz de Tenerife Conservatory and co-founded the band with Armi, Moisés, and Drahcir. Inspired by Afro-Latin rhythms and drummers like Phil Collins and Muse, I aim to elevate each track with rhythm and passion.

SOUND & INFLUENCES

POSTCODE draws from a wide and eclectic range of musical influences. Their sound is rooted in alternative indie, but evolves by incorporating elements of singer-songwriter pop, introspective rock, folk sensitivity, and modern electronic atmospheres — all filtered through the lens of a generation raised in the digital age.

Their artistic universe reflects the melodic strength of Ed Sheeran, the stylistic elegance of Dua Lipa, the cinematic textures of Imagine Dragons, and the intimate intensity of The Weeknd. From the dynamism of Bruno Mars and Miley Cyrus, to the collective energy of Mumford & Sons, the vulnerability of The Fray, the pop polish of Justin Bieber, and the creative vision of Jon Bellion — without forgetting the iconic influence of Michael Jackson, the vocal and stage magnetism of Queen, or the emotional and anthemic power of Coldplay — POSTCODE embraces the landscape of contemporary pop without losing its indie soul.

This diverse palette of references is a key pillar of their sonic and visual identity — and forms the foundation of a project with global ambition, ready to connect emotionally across borders and platforms.

MORE THAN AN ALBUM A GENERACIONAL MESSAGE

The result is a diverse, meticulously crafted record. Broadcast from Nowhere reflects our journey — from a small island to a global stage.

The title itself is a manifesto: to share music from the margins and connect authentically, no matter where you're from.

This album is the emotional portrait of a generation that seeks connection despite isolation — turning distance into shared art.

POSTCODE pours its island roots, international ambition, and musical influences into every track — and we're proud to share it with the world.
